

4/20/2015....Deffenbaugh Industries, the solid waste removal company currently contracted by the University of Arkansas, has voiced concerns over the dangerous appearance of the of the traditional orange or red autoclave bags currently used by University researchers, and reluctance on the part of their employees to handle these bags. To alleviate this problem, beginning immediately, the University will be discontinuing use of the orange or red autoclave bags and will begin using clear autoclave bags. Clear autoclave bags can be ordered through VWR (Campus Representative (479)575-4650).
